

Holbeton Parish Council Climate Change Subcommittee

JOIN the Holbeton Climate Change Forum!

The forum is an informal group interested in projects and ideas to support the environment.

Members can suggest projects and also volunteer to be part of other initiatives that may be going on in the village.

The group is open to everyone of whatever age.

We communicate via email.

Current projects include:

- Re-wilding verges

- Rebel Botanist - planning local walks with ecological labelling of plants/trees

- Books titles for the Reading Rooms about ecology and Climate change

If you are interested in being part of the forum please contact annawest123@gmail.com.

Yealm Community Energy. A number of people have said they would like to learn more about this local development. It has made possible two very large solar energy farms, which will have some important benefits for us all as well as the environment. You might want to know how it came to be, who in the parish is involved with it, and how, as well as what to expect from it. We have agreed to hold a virtual meeting, open to all, sometime in the New Year. Further information to come in a subsequent Holbeton News.

Recyclable wrapping paper is this month's "environmental tip of the month", for which many thanks to Jan & Llew Sellick. Recyclable brown paper is available at the village store.

To find our Environmental Action Plan, simply access the parish council climate emergency webpage: <https://www.holbeton-pc.gov.uk/climate-emergency/>, scroll down the page and open the pdf file called "Action Plan v3". Whilst doing so why not browse the page and see what else is posted there.

In these difficult times we are still taking forward as far as we can around a dozen environmental projects from our action plan. We had another zoom meeting of the committee on November the 3rd, and if not already on the webpage the minutes of our September and October meetings should shortly be available.

Our Environmental and Climate Change team wish you all a great Christmas and New Year!
